Bar code Label Information
Each barcode is scanned for readability prior to being sent. All sequence data is maintained so your next order will start with the next sequence number in line unless otherwise specified. Labels are good for use from -80C to 100C and are resistant to solvents such as DMSO, IPA and Methanol. If the application requires a label for -196C exposure this can be custom quoted. Symbology used is code 128. Up to 10 alphanumeric characters available.
