Enhanced inventory visibility through our cloud mobile inventory management solution

Thomas Inventory Management Solutions

Powered by Cloud-Based Technology

Thomas Scientific leverages best-in-class Clear Spider cloud-based inventory management software that gives clients access to real-time information providing more visibility in the supply chain reducing risk and improving inventory management. Our cloud-based mobile app provides enhanced user experience while lowering maintenance and management costs.

1

Our cloud-based platform is easy-to-implement and easy-to-use. Get your organization up and running in a snap.

2

Our software can be out-of-the-box or customized to suit your unique business needs – part numbers, shelf life, lot numbers, etc.

3

Scanning your items increases efficiency and accuracy. Information is captured and posted by Thomas Scientific through a cloud-based mobile app, quickly communicating inventory availability.

4

Standardized or customized reporting for efficient inventory planning and control.

5

You can have multiple users with various access levels and permissions to streamline collaboration. Having everyone on the same page saves you time and money.

6

Since your inventory data resides in the cloud, you have real-time access 24/7 from any device.

7

The system alerts you when you need to restock product. This makes your business practices more efficient. Pick the right algorithm to minimize your inventory spending.

8

You will always be operating on the most current inventory platform with no maintenance required.
